Simply Falafel offers a mixed bag of dining experiences according to recent reviews. Some customers have been disappointed by the quality of their food, with complaints about the gyro meat not being traditional, and the falafel not living up to expectations. On the other hand, many customers have raved about the excellent food, generous portions, and friendly service at the restaurant. The owner is particularly praised for being accommodating and hospitable, with some mentioning that he even offers treats for kids. The casual atmosphere of the restaurant is also noted, making it a popular spot for repeat visits. Overall, despite varying opinions, Simply Falafel seems to be a solid choice for Mediterranean cuisine in the metro area.
