You can view the categories on the menu below. Green, a well-known vegetarian restaurant, presents a charming atmosphere complemented by friendly staff. However, guest experiences diverge regarding the food quality and service. While menu highlights like the jalapeño burger and unique desserts receive praise, many dishes are criticized for being overly salty or lacking flavor. Diners also point out inconsistencies in service, noting a disinterest from staff despite the restaurant's popularity. Though cherished by many for its range of savory and healthier options, it may not meet the expectations of those seeking authentic Mediterranean cuisine. Overall, Green remains a place with potential amidst mixed reviews.
