Sue Oh's husband, John, battling cancer 15 years ago, she could help him in her own way - providing him with healthy food. Today John Oh is fully recovered, and the couple share their philosophy by running a shop, Our City Bagel.

Since they don't use oil, the bagels are fat free and about 180 calories, John Oh said. In the early 1990s, when he immigrated from South Korea, Oh managed a bakery on the west coast. After coming to California, he wanted to keep busy, so he decided to start baking again. He gave it a healthy twist, so the couple chased Our City Bagel. Then last year, they located the shop for an efficient work environment and new location.
