The Card of The Boulder Dushanbe Teahouse from Boulder includes about 21 different dishes and drinks. On average, you pay for a dish / drink about $16.4. The Dushanbe Teahouse in Boulder offers a unique dining experience in a beautiful and historically significant building. However, recent reviews have highlighted some concerns with the service, particularly in terms of how older customers are treated. Despite the ambiance and decor being praised, issues with the reservation process and hostess interactions have left some patrons feeling overlooked or ignored. Additionally, reports of a mouse and rat poison sighting on the outdoor dining patio have raised ethical concerns for animal lovers. On the bright side, there have been positive testimonials for trading services and account management unrelated to the restaurant itself, indicating satisfaction with financial transactions. Overall, while the setting of the Dushanbe Teahouse may be worth a visit for its artistic and cultural value, diners may want to consider other options if they prioritize respectful service and ethical practices alongside their meal.
