Connie's in Island Park is a mixed bag of reviews. Some visitors found the food disappointing with dry chicken salads and cold chili, advising travelers to opt for a PB&J sandwich instead. Another group enjoyed a fabulous meal with perfectly cooked ribs and delicious fried Mac and cheese balls, but the service fell short. However, many patrons raved about Connie's, calling it the best family dining spot with top-notch service, great food, and a welcoming atmosphere. The restaurant's location near Yellowstone National Park is praised, with highlights being the perfectly grilled rib-eye and homemade cornbread. Staff are commended for their friendliness and unique touches, such as a clothing boutique. Overall, Connie's comes recommended, especially for families looking for a great dining experience.
