At XNA airport, dining experiences at the local restaurant offer a mixed bag. While some patrons report commendable service and delicious dishes like juicy chicken tenders and expertly-crafted brisket breakfast tacos, others recount frustrations with inattentive staff and underwhelming food quality. Despite a few shining moments, such as friendly servers and unexpected dessert delights, the overall impression leans towards inconsistency. High prices for modest portions add to the disappointment, particularly when compared to nearby alternatives. Travelers may find themselves torn between the convenience of the establishment and the quality of the experience, making it a hit-or-miss option before their flights.
